

Development of university programs and syllabus

The aim of the training is to assist the professor-teachers of "Avrasia Batumi International University" in the development of university programs and syllabus, planning and improving the teaching process. Professors will study the basic principles of modern university curriculum and syllabus training, Bologna processes, Georgian legislation of education system, internal regulations of the University and authorization-accreditation standards and requirements. understand learning and teaching theories of teaching and research integration;

Target group:

- For professors and teachers of higher education institutions;
- Persons involved in the learning process;
- Other interested persons

Training goals:

- Help faculty-educators to plan and improve their teaching process;
- To introduce the main processes in the united European educational space, basic principles for the development of university curriculum and syllabus;
- To study the student-oriented study pattern planning principles;

Training capacity:

12 hours

Expected Results:

- Professors and teachers will be able to plan and improve the teaching process;
- Understanding the main processes in the united European educational space;
- To develop curricula and syllabus relevant to university regulations;
- They will be able to understand and plan the student-oriented learning program;

Trainer:

Natalia Barateli